

Your Anxious Workplace: Staying Calm and Clearheaded in a Crazy Environment

Dr. Harriet Lerner

Clinical Psychologist and Author

Monday, November 12, 2007

4:00 pm

120 Snow Hall

Everyone is invited to attend.

We are pleased to present Dr. Lerner, who is known the world over for her work on the psychology of women and family relationships. In her writing she is dedicated to translating complex theory into accessible and useful prose. Through the clarity of her writing, clinical work, and engaging public appearances, Dr. Lerner has become one of the nation's most trusted and respected relationship experts.

She is the author of ten books, including the New York Times bestseller, The Dance of Anger, Women in Therapy and, most recently, The Dance of Fear. Lerner's books have been translated into more than thirty foreign editions. For more than three decades, Lerner was a staff psychologist and psychotherapist at the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kansas, and a faculty member in the Karl Menninger School of Psychiatry. A distinguished lecturer and workshop leader, she currently has a private practice in Lawrence, Kansas.
