Stefanie DeVito, Ph.D.

Teaching Fellow, Dept of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Stefanie DeVito is a Postdoctoral Teaching Fellow and Visiting Assistant Professor in the department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. She works with biology faculty from Ecology and Evolutionary Biology as well as Molecular Biology to redesign biology courses to be student-focused and to incorporate more active learning. Stefanie holds a Ph.D. in Biochemistry from the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry where her dissertation focused on metabolic changes made to host cells upon infection by Human Cytomegalovirus (HCMV). She has also previously worked as adjunct faculty in the Department of Chemistry at St. John Fisher College in Rochester, New York. Stefanie's research interests focus on increasing undergraduate proficiency in critical thinking and the scientific process.
